

CAMPUS HOUSING FOR Graduate Students

As a graduate student, you'll want to take advantage of all that Berkeley has to offer. The best way to do that? Living in campus housing. With prime locations, on-site support and convenient amenities, you can build your graduate student community right at your doorstep.

Graduate Student Apartments

Single graduate students can apply for on-campus housing in one of these four apartment complexes:

Ida Jackson House Apartments

Located one block from the campus, the complex offers space for 120 graduate students in two-, three-, four-, five-, and six-bedroom shared apartments.

Intersection Apartments

Located three miles from the campus in the dynamic city of Emeryville, this complex offers light-filled, modern, fully-furnished apartments in studio, one-, two-, and four-bedroom configurations.

Manville Apartments

Located three blocks from campus, Manville Apartments offers well-appointed studio apartments right in the heart of downtown Berkeley, close to cafes, restaurants, and shops.

xučyun ruwway Apartments

Located on a direct AC Transit bus line to campus, xučyun ruwway offers fully-furnished apartments with single-occupancy bedrooms in a new complex with an onsite fitness center, extensive outdoor recreational areas, and shared study spaces.

Family Student Housing

University Village, UC Berkeley's 58-acre complex located 3.5 miles west of campus, is for students who are married/or in a domestic partnership, with or without children, or who are single parents.
